MANY YEARS AN INVALID—UNTOLD AGONY FROM HEAD-ACHES
Dizziness, Sinking Spells and Excessive Weakness Disappear With Use of

DR. CHASE'S NERVE FOOD

Nearly every woman will read with interest the letter of Mrs. Geo. Bradshaw, quoted below. It tells of years of great suffering from Nervous Headache and other symptoms arising from weak, watery blood and a starved and exhausted condition of the nervous system.
Mrs. George Bradshaw, Cozy Nook, Hawlowe, Ont., writes:—"I am glad to state that I received benefits from Dr. Chase's Nerve Food which I failed to get any place else. I was troubled for many years in fact from my early womanhood, with weak, watery blood, and given to drowsy. I suffered untold agonies from nervous sick headaches, dizziness, and sinking spells, in fact was a semi-invalid for many years. I tried many kinds of patent medicines, and got no help, and tried every new doctor that came along, but all failed to help me. Doctors told me I had no blood, and that my heart and kidneys were diseased, and that I had so many complaints there was not much use in doctoring up one or two. Four years ago I took six boxes of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, and was glad to see I felt better, and then got six more, and they have cured me of many of my complaints. When I began taking Nerve Food I weighed 110 pounds and today I weigh 139, and am 45 years old."

A reporter was once interviewing a famous English international footballer, and asked him how he liked being a professional.
"Immensely," he replied.
"Aye, but well enough to bring your children up to it?" said the reporter.
"No," he replied, "not well enough for that."
But why? asked the reporter.
"Because they're lasses," said he, with loud laughter.

A WONDERFUL CASE
Three Months in Hospital and Came Out Uncured
Zam-Buk Cured Him In Few Weeks

Zam-Buk Cured Him In Few Weeks
Mr. Fred Mason, the well-known upholsterer and mattress manufacturer of St. Andrews, N.B., says:—"I had eczema on my knee, which caused me terrible pain and inconvenience. The sore parts would itch and burn and tingle, and then when rubbed or scratched would become very painful. When the knee got warm, it burned worse, and the itching and burning and smarting were almost unbearable. I tried various remedies, but got no better, so I decided to go to Montreal and take special treatment. I received treatment at the Montreal General Hospital for thirteen weeks, but at the end of that time I was not cured, and almost gave in. A friend advised me to give Zam-Buk a trial.
"Almost as soon as I applied Zam-Buk stopped the itching and the irritation. I persevered with the balm, and it was soon evident that it would do me good. Each day the pain was reduced, the sore spots began to heal, and by the time I had used a few boxes of Zam-Buk I was quite cured.
"Since then Zam-Buk has cured blood-poison in my finger, and at a time when my finger was in such a terrible condition that I feared it would have to be amputated."
For eczema, blood-poisoning, piles, ulcers, sores, chapped hands, cuts, burns, bruises and all skin injuries and diseases, Zam-Buk is without equal.

Your Price Will Buy a BURROUGHS
Some business men have a mistaken idea that all Burroughs Bookkeeping Machines are costly. Far from it. We make Burroughs machines at from $200 to $1000.
Burroughs machines range from a plain 6-column machine, adapted to the business that employs but one clerk, to our big 17-column Electric Duplex machine, the largest, most complete, adding machine ever built.
The man who buys the $200 Burroughs does so because that machine will meet all the requirements of his business. It produces for him exactly the same results as the $550 machine produces for the man whose business needs the more complete models.
The quality of material that goes into the low and the high priced Burroughs is exactly the same.
The same engineering skill designs them both.

ROOM FOR INDUSTRIES

With Capital and Labor There is Abundance of Raw Material

The present water power development in Canada is estimated by the Department of Interior at only 486,687 horse power. If manufacturing in Canada increases commensurately with the development of this now latent power, what a hive of industry there will be extended throughout the length and breadth of this Dominion, and this surmise takes no account of the almost unfathomable coal deposits yet unearthed.

Raw materials must exist as well as labor, however, and fortunately these are in Canada representing the greatest amount of capital are allied with operation by the resources of natural power. Canada roughly in round numbers, gained again on the special census of 1906, the manufactures in order of importance are as follows:—Timber, lumber and their products, (other than steel)—140 millions; food products, (chief of which would be flour, meats and canned fruits) 120 millions; textiles, 100 millions and iron and steel products, 80 millions. All of these industries, one may readily see, are based on supplies, which are the most abundant of our natural resources, and they also lend themselves easily to operation by the various falls and rapids, which go to make up Canada's 25 millions of natural horse power.

We have the raw material, the power and the market. All that is necessary is the capital and labor to do the work.

WAGES AND COST OF LIVING

An Adaptation to Canada of Returns of British Board of Trade

The British Board of Trade last year conducted an inquiry into the question of wages and cost of living among the industrial classes of United States, the results of which as tabulated by Mr. G. R. Askwith, have recently been made public. Included in the report is a valuable comparison of the figures for the United States with those for the United Kingdom and Wales as secured in 1905 and revised to date. Summing up all these results it may be said that while the cost of food and rent in the United States is 52 per cent. greater than in England, yet wages, being 130 per cent. higher, more than offset the higher cost of living. Further, the margin of income over and above food and rent is so great as to make possible a command of the necessities and conveniences and minor luxuries of life that is both nominally and really greater than that enjoyed by the corresponding class in England. What is true of the United States is true of Canada, for conditions in both countries are nearly identical. Canada is practically as self-contained as the United States. Almost every primary commodity in wide consumption is produced within its own borders. It is still relatively in an early state of its development. It has great natural advantages and opportunities for individual advancement. And its industries are growing nicely. The conditions of its working classes are if anything better than in the States and the comparisons instituted between the latter country and England apply with even greater force in the case of Canada.

LORD ROSEBERY ON BOB SAWYER

Type Which Only Existed, if at all in Dickens's Mind—Student of To-day

The part of the report which most appealed to him, he said, was that recording the magnificent athletic victories which the students had managed to achieve. People of his generation knew very little about medical students, and what they did know was all wrong.

They were brought up in Pickwick, and grew to manhood under the impression that medical students were composed of people like Bob Sawyer and Benjamin Allen, whom he thought the worst specimens of the human race. They were dirty, drunken and yet they pretended to deal with the ills and sorrows of mankind.

He certainly did not believe that they or anything like them ever existed. Supposing there was a vestige of truth in the characters, it was gratifying to-day to feel how absolutely and hopelessly untrue they seemed in the light of present experience.

Could they imagine under any circumstances Benjamin Allen winning the cup? Could anyone imagine Robert Sawyer winning a mile swimming race like one of their students? No doubt it would have done him a great deal more good to have swum a mile, for more reasons than one.

A few apothecaries still survived in the more rural parts of the country like the apothecary of their childhood. In those early days he was a great "medicine man," as the Indian called them, in the most literal sense of the word, because he not merely recommended, but he compounded the medicine he daily administered.

He, however, gave up the name of apothecary, and became the general practitioner, to their lasting regret. He might have given them too much medicine, but there was no necessity to take it, and he didn't think they always did, but they could still remember the familiar grasp of his warm hand. He supposed it was an age of progress, and that they must dispense with him as well as with other familiar figures of the past.

Lord Rosebery said medicine was the noblest secular profession in the world. It was the noblest profession because it was the forlorn hope of humanity itself. It was a great and noble fight in the cause of humanity. Let them take the single name of Lister, and balance it against the names of great conquerors of history, Caesar, Napoleon, Wellington; no intelligent human being would hesitate as to which side of the balance the universal gratitude of mankind was due between Lister and those who had devoted their lives, their energies, to conquest and bloodshed.

AN OLD FRIEND

Wood Norton, the famous estate which the Duke of Orleans has sold, has been the home of foreign royalties for over half a century. After he lost the throne of France, Louis Philippe lived there, and there is a funny story told of his meeting with an old publican after his return.

A man stood by the roadside and bowed to the ex-King. "Where are you, my man?" he asked. "I am to know your face. Were you here when I lived here before?" "Yes, your Royal Highness, I was the 'Crown'." "You, indeed!" exclaimed the ex-King. "That's more than I could do."

"There could be no better medicine than Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. My children were all sick with whooping cough. One of them was in bed, had a high fever and was coughing up blood. You fancied what? Lady Anne asked sharply. Please tell me everything or nothing.

It will sound absurd to you, Lillas murmured, lowering her glowing face, but as we had all been talking about ghosts at dinner, and as it was too dark to see the monk's face distinctly, especially under the cowl, I thought for a moment that the height and movements were like—like—

Like whom?

Like someone I know Lillas said. I thought it was a trick, you see, as I had been boasting about psychic powers.

What happened?

When I thought it was a trick or joke, Lillas admitted naively, I resolved to enter into it. But when the monk suddenly caught me in his arms and began to kiss me, I knew he would never believe in that way, and—

He? Who?

A light flashed over Lady Anne's face.

How do you know it was not Harry Clavel? she asked briskly.

Did you recognize him? Lillas asked, suddenly lifting her head, while the look of fear in her eyes gave place to one of hopefulness.

Lady Anne hesitated before answering.

No—no, she replied slowly, at last, it would not be true to say I actually recognized him. Yet who else could it have been? You know him well, I suppose?

I met him at a party in New York in the spring, and three times since in England.

And he has made love to you? Lady Anne asked quickly.

Never. I wish he had. Lillas added ingenuously, for I never saw anyone I liked half as much. Lady Anne, do you really think it was he?

If you are certain it was not a creature of your own imagination—

Oh, I am quite certain! Ghosts don't hold one as tight as that. And—Lillas added, growing suddenly red again—ghosts don't kiss like human beings, surely.

Her hands were tightly clasped. She was frowning herself into a self-controlled frame of mind.

When she came back to the bed upon which Lillas was seated, she spoke with grave kindness.

I feel much annoyed, she said, that you, as my guest, should have such a silly trick played upon you. I will send for Mr. Clavelworth, or Harry Clavel, as you call him, in the morning and speak to him very sharply about his ungentlemanly conduct.

SALT RHEUM CAME OUT ON HANDS

Formed Watery Pimples. Itchy and Had Horrible Burning Sensation. Lost Some of Finger Nails. Could Not Open Hands. Cured by Cuticura Soap and Ointment.

235 N. Ligar St., Toronto, Ontario.—

"For seven years I have been troubled with salt-rheum. It came out on my hands and formed kind of watery pimples all over them which became itchy and it had a horrible burning sensation which caused me a good deal of pain. It came out on my hands in the fall and remained there till after spring. I might mention that I lost some of my finger-nails by the disease. During this length of time I was utterly useless, as I could not open my hands. I tried several other patent medicines without a bit of relief. Some of my friends advised me to try Cuticura Remedies so I sent for samples and by using them there was a great improvement. Then I went to the druggist and bought one cake of Cuticura Soap and two boxes of Cuticura Ointment; after using them I am glad to say I am completely cured. I had given up all hope of being cured. I can say to all those who have suffered as I have, not to lose courage but to give Cuticura Remedies a fair trial."

Lillas looked dismayed.

Pray, pray, don't do that, Lady Anne, she protested. After all, we don't know for certain, do we? Had I really been sure it was Mr. Clavel I—

Well?

I only mean I should not have been so frightened, and I don't even know that I should be very angry, she owned.

Remember who he is, Lady Anne said. Your mother was a Warner, and the Warnes hate the Clavels.

They have a horrid name, of course, Lillas admitted. And as it is mostly for indiscriminate love-making, I suppose poor Harry couldn't help himself!

Certainly it was disgraceful! Lillas hastened to say, growing red and white by turns, and I am very angry with him. But he only kissed me two or three times—in fact, he hadn't time for more; and do you think I need let him know I recognized him, when after all I didn't?

Lady Anne was compelled to smile a little at the girl's Irish method of speech.

I think it will be far wiser for you not to speak to him on the subject, she said. In the letter your uncle wrote me today he informed me that he would set everyone against Harry Clavel, and if possible drive him out of Crayborne. I ought never to have invited the two of you together after reading it. But the fact is, I have had other things to think about this afternoon, and I did not even open Mr. Warner's letter until just before dinner. If any of this ghost story should come to his ears he would be mad with rage.

It never shall, Lillas assured her earnestly. I have no feeling for Uncle Denzil. But Mr. Clavel saved my life when my horse ran away with me, and although, of course, being a Clavel, he can't help making love, I—

Would you care to marry such a man? Lady Anne asked with sudden sternness; a man who, as you say, cannot help making love indiscriminately to every good-looking woman he meets?

Oh, Harry may not be as bad as that! cried Lillas, who by this time was looking the picture of happiness. And really, you know, I dare say I encouraged him. Where did he get hold of that monk's dress, I wonder?

Probably he borrowed my long-hooded ulster of white cloth, which is generally hanging in the hall. That, with a black silk scarf, would make the disguise. And now, Miss Morgan, you have been sufficiently frightened for one day. It is nearly one o'clock. Try to sleep, and I will give orders that your breakfast shall be brought up to you tomorrow as late as you like.

She was leaving the room, when Lillas ran after her and caught at her hand.

A Miraculous Escape

A mishap befell a steamboat tripper on the West Coast last summer. In common with others he found much enjoyment in watching the engines at work. There were several doors around and above the engine-room and he was interestedly following the movements of the engineer, through one of these, when a crowd came suddenly along the passage, the pressure being so great that the door gave way and he was hurled, as it seemed, into the midst of the moving machinery and lost consciousness.

When he came to on the upper deck he was informed that a moment before he fell the starboard engine had been stopped as the boat was just rounding in, and it was found that he had simply received a few bruises. It was a miraculous escape from what might have been a fearful death.

Deafness Cannot be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed for ever. Nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

NO MEDICINE

But Change of Food Gave Final Relief

Most diseases start in the alimentary canal—stomach and bowels.

A great deal of our stomach and bowel trouble comes from eating too much starchy and greasy food.

The stomach does not digest any of the starchy food we eat—white bread, pastry, potatoes, oats, etc.—these things are digested in the small intestines and if we eat too much, as most of us do, the organs that should digest this kind of food are over-come by excess of work, so that fermentation, indigestion, and a long train of ills result.

Too much fat also is hard to digest and this is changed into acids, sour stomach, belching gas, and a bloated, heavy feeling.

In these conditions a change from indigestible foods to Grape-Nuts will work wonders in not only relieving the distress but in building up a strong digestion, clear brain and steady nerves.

A woman writes: "About five years ago I suffered with bad stomach—dyspepsia, indigestion, constipation—caused, I know now, from overeating starchy and greasy food."

"I doctored for two years without any benefit. The doctor told me there was no cure for me. I could not eat anything without suffering severe pain in my back and sides, and I became discouraged."

"A friend recommended Grape-Nuts and I began to use it. In less than two weeks I began to feel better and inside of two months I was a well woman and have been ever since."

"I can eat anything I wish with pleasure. We eat Grape-Nuts and cream for breakfast and are very fond of it." Name given by Canadian Postum Co., Windsor, Ont.

Advantages and Saving by Using The Loading Platform

In this writing we desire to put before our Western Farmers the saving and advantage of loading grain direct on cars. Shipping grain through an elevator, it matters not whether a Government elevator or one run by an elevator company or individual owner, does not add the least fraction of a cent to the value of the grain, nor does it give the farmer any better chance of marketing it to advantage than when loaded direct on cars. But loading direct in cars cuts out in the first place the elevator charge, which is usually 1 1/2c. per bushel, say $17.50 on a thousand bushel car. The elevator dockage is also saved; this may be worth more or less, depending partly on how dirty the grain is, but mostly on the farmer's ability in holding his own with the elevator man taking it in. On the average the dockage may be considered worth 3c per bushel to the farmer, or say $30 per car of 1,000 bushels. When grain is loaded direct into car over the Loading Platform, the farmer knows for sure that it is his very own grain that will be graded by the inspector, and that he will without doubt receive the full and exact return of his car at whichever terminal elevator it is unloaded; for all grain is unloaded from the cars under government superintendence and weighed by properly qualified government weighmen under the rules and supervision of the Dominion Government Board of Grain Commissioners.

Of course, it makes no difference in our loading of the farmers' grain whether it has been shipped through an elevator or over the Loading Platform, but it can easily be seen from what we have stated above where the farmer's advantage lies, when it saves him around $50 or more on every car he ships.

We continue to act as the farmers' agent in looking after and disposing of carlot shipments of wheat, oats, barley and flax strictly on a commission of 1 cent per bushel. We are not connected with, nor interested in any elevator companies or elevators, either local or terminal; neither are we truck buyers. In fact we never buy farmers' grain on our own account, but only to handle and dispose of the grain entrusted to us as the agents of those who employ us. Many years' experience, with a wide connection and ample facilities for engaging in this special branch of the grain trade, have given us a reputation of the highest character in it. We make liberal advances on car bills of lading. Write us for shipping instructions and market information. We give as references to our reliability, efficiency and financial standing any city or country Bank Manager in Western Canada.

DEMOCRATS SWEEP U.S.

WILSON AND MARSHALL ELECTED BY BIG MAJORITY

Governor Wilson, of New Jersey, is Elected President of the United States to succeed Wm. H. Taft, by an Overwhelming Majority—Interest in Great Britain.

New York.—Woodrow Wilson was elected president and Thomas R. Marshall vice-president by an electoral majority which challenged comparison with the year in which Horace M. Greey was defeated by Grant. Until now, that year has always been the standard of comparison for disastrous defeats, but the downfall of the Republican party this year runs it a close second.

The Republican party is wiped off the map. Nearly everywhere Taft ran third, with Roosevelt capturing a large majority of the old Republican votes, and in many states Taft's votes were almost negligible.

New York gave Wilson a plurality over Taft of about 205,000. Wilson's vote in the state was 698,000, Taft's 494,000, and Roosevelt's 419,000.

The Democratic majority in the house of representatives will not be less than 160 and the United States senate will probably be Democratic also. The Democrats swept New York, electing Senator Sulzer governor, with Hedges running second and Straus a poor third.

Not only that but for the first time since the organization of the Republican party the Democrats will get the electoral vote of Maine.

Wilson goes into office with heavy Democratic Congressional behind him, and assurances are that the next Senate will be made up of men of his party, who will be able to force through the measures to which it is pledged.

Wilson carried victory with Democratic Congressmen and Senators; he even carried the following States, all of which were carried by Bryan four years ago: Alabama, Kentucky, Nebraska, Carolina, Arkansas, Louisiana, Nevada, Tennessee, Florida, Maryland, North Carolina, Texas, Georgia, Mississippi, Oklahoma and Virginia.

London.—The chief interest in the American presidential election for England is its relations to the tariff. Tariff reform is one of the leading issues in British politics. The Liberal papers hail the Democratic success as a great victory for low tariff which was certain to have an influence in England.

The Daily News says:—That the Democratic party should return to office after fifteen years in the wilderness is nothing. What matters is that it is a regenerated party which has returned, entrusted by the American people with a definite mission and led by a man who has character and intellect to carry the mission through.

The News thinks that Woodrow Wilson's election should stimulate all men of the American universities, which are more national and democratic than the English, to participate in politics, and adds:—

War against protection is an interest common to all peoples, and the world has too long been denied that inspiration, that leading which we have a right to expect from the greatest of all republics.

The Standard says:—The people had grown tired of two sets of office seekers, grouped for the mere purpose of the game of parties and divided by no real questions of principles.

The Standard holds that the Democratic revision will leave duties higher than the tariff reformers in England propose.

The Morning Post says:—The significance of the election lies in the fact that the people were dissatisfied with the Taft administration which was too much controlled by the bosses, but were not ready to accept the advanced Roosevelt programme.

The Express says:—Mr. Wilson's success depends upon the degree to which he can raise enthusiasm for politics in hitherto apathetic quarters. He will not lay violent hands on the tariff.

What emerges most significantly from the election, says the Chronicle, is that the majority of the American people have awakened to keen dissatisfaction with things as they are; that a great forward surge is agitating the mighty mass; that although to some its purposes may be confused, to some its battles still fought in the half light, there is enough will and vitality in the gigantic nation to carry it forward to final victory.

British Welcome League

Ottawa.—A deputation representing the British Welcome League at Toronto, waited on Hon. Dr. Roche, minister of the interior, and asked that the work on behalf of the newcomers to Canada be recognized. The minister said that he recognized that the work was a good one and promised careful consideration of their claims for substantial support.

ON LONG VOYAGE

Collingwood, Ont.—The new light house steamer, Estevan, which the Collingwood Shipbuilding company have just completed to the order of the Dominion government for service on the Pacific coast, left on a trip of 17,000 miles to Victoria, British Columbia, a voyage that will occupy three months. The Estevan is a steel steamer constructed along lines specially designed for steamers of her class by the marine experts of the government. Her dimensions are: length, 210 feet; breadth, 38 feet; and depth 15 feet.

Before her departure the steamer was taken to Owen Sound where trials of speed were made over a measured course. The log showed a speed of 14 knots per hour, two knots more than the contract called for.

The shipbuilding company are under contract to deliver the steamer at Victoria, British Columbia. This necessitates the engagement of two crews, one to take her to Quebec and another to make the ocean voyage down the Atlantic ocean, round Cape Horn and up the Pacific ocean to her destination.

From Collingwood to Quebec the steamer will be in charge of Captain Lachlan Morrison, an experienced lake captain and pilot. At the ancient capital, Captain Morrison will turn his charge over to Captain Lindgren, of Victoria, B.C., who in recent years has taken three C.P.R. steamers, the Princesses, from England to Victoria.

HOME RULE BILL

Several Amendments Agreed to in British House of Commons

London.—In the proceeding in the house of commons on the home rule bill on clause eleven, providing for a joint session of both houses of the Irish parliament in the event of a disagreement, an amendment was agreed to limiting the operation of the clause to public bills.

An amendment requiring all public bills to be sent to the Irish senate at least one month before the end of the session was also agreed to.

A third amendment to exclude from the operation of the clause any bill affecting the qualification of the Irish parliamentary electors of the right to vote at any parliamentary election, was rejected by 289 to 120.

Sir Harry Samuel moved an amendment to exempt any bill which effected the constitution of either house of Irish parliament or their relation to each other in the constitution which they are setting up. The new Irish constitution should not suffer as the imperial parliament was now suffering under a weakened upper chamber, he said. The amendment was defeated 314 to 190.

Praise for Edmonton

London.—Francis Neilson, Liberal member for Hyde, Cheshire, who has travelled extensively and written largely on the land question, declared in a lecture that Edmonton was the freest city on the face of the earth, declaring that there were no taxes there on improvements, personal property, business or income, in fact no indirect tax with the exception of an imperial protective tax which they would shift immediately if they had their own way.

Expert for Fisheries

Ottawa.—An expert board to advise the marine and fisheries department regarding the fishing industry generally is being considered by the minister. The idea is to have all branches of the fishing industry—deep sea coast and lake and rivers—represented on an advisory board which would meet regularly and deal first hand with questions affecting the fisheries. Legislation along that line is anticipated at the coming session.

Largest Diamond in the World

Johannesburg.—A diamond weighing 1,649 carats has been discovered in the Premier Mine. This is the largest diamond in the world. The famous Cullinan which was found in the same mine, in 1905, weighed 3,024 carats, but was cut into eleven separate stones.

The diamond just found when cut may not prove to be as large as the Cullinan diamond.

Apples Will Rot on Trees

Ingersoll, Ont.—That hundreds of barrels of apples throughout Oxford County will go to waste owing to so much important work on the part of the farmers, is the opinion expressed here. The price of the fruit remains around the dollar mark, but the farmers by no means exert themselves to pick the entire crop, and it is possible that large quantities of choice apples will never be removed from the trees.

Grain From Peace River

Toronto.—A. W. Carveth, of Grand Prairie, Alta., has sent Robert Hay, a leading grain dealer, a number of samples of grain grown in the Peace River district. They are all pronounced as excellent, both in color and quality. The barley is especially large and beautifully light in color.

Winnipeg to Portage

Portage la Prairie, Man.—At a meeting of the rural council, a committee was appointed to confer with the municipal council of Port Francois Xavier, regarding the building of an electric railway from Winnipeg to this city.

TURKS LOSING HOPE

BULGARIANS ARE PURSUING ANCIENT ENEMY

The Turkish Army is given no time to recuperate from their recent losses—Constantinople has Apparently Abandoned all Hope and Court is Ready to Cross to Asia.

London.—Bulgaria is giving the broken Turkish army no time to recuperate. In accordance with the tactics adopted throughout the war, Bulgarians are following up the defeated Turkish army with extraordinary energy. Flying columns are pushing along the sea coast towards Tschatalja lines and it is believed that the main attack will be delivered at any time.

Constantinople appears to have lost hope of stemming the victorious advance even at Tschatalja, and the Turkish court is ready to cross into Asia.

Apparently, however, the Bulgarian Government has no aspirations on Constantinople itself and would be ready to conclude peace provided Turkey will agree to surrender Adrianople and some other positions in the western theatre of war and give a guarantee to bring no more reinforcements from Asia.

The Porte shows no disposition as yet to treat for peace direct with the allies, and until the big Tschatalja battle has been fought, the diplomatic situation is not likely to be changed.

What will happen then, it is impossible to foresee the only thing certain being that the European concert which is not too harmonious will be faced by the most difficult and thorny task of settling trivial claims of the many aspirants for Turkish territory.

Albania forms the crux of the position. It is stated that an attempt by Serbia to encroach on Albania will be regarded by Austria as a casus belli. On the other hand Serbia declares that a part of the Adriatic is a matter of life and death for her and she fails to see why her presence there should be detrimental to the interests of any other power.

Further, Serbia argues she would only regain what belonged to her before the downfall of the Serbian Empire when Adriatic seaports were flourishing Serbian towns.

The Constantinople correspondent of the Daily Chronicle sends the following:

At any moment the storm may break and involve us in the red ruin of massacre and outrage. Soon Constantinople itself will be surrounded. All the discordant elements of the population, Turks, Armenians, Greeks, Kurds and heterogeneous mass of Europeans will be crushed together into a seething conglomeration of name-stricken humanity and all the old hatreds will blaze into scorching flames.

For five hundred years the Turk has lorded it over the infidel. The last hours of that ascendancy, it is feared, may be lived in blood. We had a foretaste of what is to come in the news from Rodosto. Thither came bands of Nazim Pasha's broken force, driven from Lule Burgaz by the victorious Bulgarians. Their thin veneer of European civilization vanished like mist in the morning sunlight. A scene of horror followed. The town was given up to massacre, outrage and pillage. It was set on fire in seven places. Children were hurled into the raging flames.

In their agony of fear many tried to get into the open sea in boats, anywhere from these human wolves. In some cases the boatmen were massacred. In others those who trusted to the sea found a merciful death beneath the waves.

The victorious march of the Bulgarian army results in similar scenes wherever the Turks anticipate the coming of the enemy.

The arrival of the foreign cruisers has exasperated the Moslems who consider it evidence that the city will be occupied by foreign troops. The government exercises no moral authority and murders in the Greek and Jewish quarters occur daily.

Conditions in Syria are alarming; Catholics are suffering most. The governor of Smyrna seems unable to control the people.

Many officers are hiding in Constantinople fearing to go to the front. Everyone is living in supplies of water. Great alarm has been caused by the report that 25,000 Kurds from Asia Minor are marching on Constantinople.

Suffragette Setback

London.—The suffragette movement suffered a setback in the house of commons when an announcement providing for woman suffrage, which it was desired to include in the home rule bill for Ireland, was defeated by 341 against 141 votes.

The suffragettes declare that they will retaliate by organizing outbreaks in Ireland.

Independent Corn Growers

Toronto.—Elgin County corn growers will form an independent co-operative association and will break away from the Ontario Corn Growers' Association, which covers also the counties of Kent, Essex and Lambton. A despatch asked for the support of the Ontario government and the minister of agriculture promised consideration.

London.—Lambeth guardians yesterday decided to prosecute able-bodied paupers who frequently enter and leave the workhouse without attempting to obtain employment on a charge of failing to maintain themselves.

LORD ROBERTS EXPLAINS

Breaks the Silence He has Maintained Since His War-Like Speech at Manchester

London.—Lord Roberts breaks the silence he has maintained since his famous Manchester speech by a vigorous letter in the Manchester Guardian. He explains he is so much accustomed to adverse criticism in his efforts to arouse the nation to the sense of its unpreparedness for war as not to resent in anyway the attacks of his opponents, but nevertheless, he feels bound to answer what he describes as a complete misconstruction by the Guardian of the salient passage in his speech. It is true, he says, I pointed out the striking process by which Germany developed from a loose coterie of petty federated states to a united Empire which arouses the admiration of the world today. But to suggest I am urging upon England that it should be her policy first to arm herself better than Germany and then make war on Germany with or without just cause or even quarrel simply because England thinks herself at that moment able to win a war, is a suggestion so strange and so repugnant to my mind, that I am utterly at a loss to understand how it could be attributed to me or elicited from my speech. My whole speech was directed, as are all my efforts, to impressing on the fellow countrymen the terrible danger involved in the present situation in which we alone find ourselves. A nation untrained, unprepared and unarmed amid a Europe in which every people, not only the great powers like Russia, Germany and France, but the smaller states, Bulgaria, Serbia, Greece, Norway, Sweden and Denmark stand as armed nations providing Balkan forces, which while it strengthens each one of them physically, makes for peace with honor or for triumph of right.

Facts Demonstrating Growth

Swift Current, Sask.—The start made by the engineers' department of Swift Current in the matter of street paving along Eleventh Avenue is regarded quite generally as marking one more important advance in the town's development. Still another feature of the steady growth of Swift Current, especially in the district conveniently located with reference to the C.P.R. station and the business section, is the opening of the branch of the Bank of Montreal on Eleventh Avenue. As stated by Secretary Wood of the local board of trade, Great as was the development of Swift Current in 1910 and 1911, the progress made during the present year has far surpassed anything that has previously been accomplished; our highest expectations have been greatly exceeded. Swift Current is now a divisional point of the C.P.R., which railway already has two branch lines radiating from this point; and in 1913 it will be a divisional point of the C.N.R. and G.T.P., both of which railways will have two lines running out of Swift Current. Recent statistics of building permits in proportion to population place Swift Current third amongst all the cities and towns in the Dominion. This fact alone should be conclusive as to the activity now taking place. Swift Current is the centre of three million acres of the richest grain growing land in the West; and reference to recent statistics will show that this is the largest initial wheat-shipping point in the world. Swift Current has an assured future.

American Immigration to Canada

Ottawa.—An interesting analysis of the American immigration to Canada for the past year has been made by the department of the interior. Sixty-nine per cent of the settlers from the States were naturalized American citizens, while no less than thirty-one per cent had never taken out naturalization papers.

The total immigration from the republic was 133,710 and of these 19,384 or 14 per cent were returned Canadians. One per cent of the other nationalities had not taken out papers as Americans. There were English, 3,680; Scotch, 1,399; Irish, 936; Germans, 32,925; Finns, 23,811; Swedes 3,707; Norwegians, 1,972.

Ten Private Bills

Ottawa.—From the present indications there will not be a particularly heavy list of private bills at the forthcoming session of parliament. An exception, however, is the divorce cases which number 39 so far and thus exceed all records.

The country is now covered with blanket railway charters but while a large number of the concerns will seek time extensions, few lines are in prospect.

What may be lacking in the private legislation, however, will be more than made up by the extensive list of the government bills. The bank act is now being finally revised and along with it a bill for the regulation of the savings banks.

Claims Cure for Tuberculosis

Berlin.—At a meeting of the Berlin Medical Society, Dr. Frederick Friedmann announced the discovery of what he believed to be a practical cure for every form of tuberculosis. He exhibited cured patients and declared that he had treated 682 cases by his method with almost invariably complete cures.

Prominent physicians attested to successes by this method in their own own practice.

Dr. Friedmann injects living tuberculosis bacilli which has been rendered benevolent.

LESSON VII—FOURTH QUARTER, FOR NOV. 17, 1912

Text of the Lesson, Mark viii, 27 to ix, 1.—Memory Verses 36, 37.—Golden Text, Matt. xvi, 16.—Commentary Prepared by Rev. D. M. Stearns.

This lesson is recorded also in Matt. xvi and Luke ix, and we will consider it with the harmony of the gospels before us. Mimiris in his harmony says that this is the first particular prediction concerning the rejection, the death and the resurrection of the Christ and was probably apart from the multitude and is the first key opened to the heaven of the Pharisees. Matthew and Mark say that He has come into the coats or towns of Caesarea Philippi, and Luke adds that He was alone praying. His disciples being with Him. We shall see in the next lesson that He was praying also at the time of His transfiguration (Luke ix, 28, 29). Luke records other instances of His praying in chapters iii, 21; vi, 12; x, 1; xlii, 41; xlii, 34. He ever talked with His Father in heaven with the same realization of His presence as that of the people about Him.

People talked about Him and had their opinions as they have today. The Pharisees who believed in a resurrection thought that He might be John the Baptist or Elijah or Jeremiah or one of the prophets at which no doubt, the Sadducees scoffed, for they did not believe in resurrection or spirit, but the Pharisees confessed both (Acts xlii, 9). His next question is the one that should lay hold of our hearts. Whom say ye that I am? or as He put it to the Pharisees at another time. What think ye of Christ? (Matt. xxii, 42).

It should not so much concern me what others say, but what does my heart say, what is He to me personally? Simon Peter, generally the spokesman, answered. Thou art the Christ, the Son of the living God (verse 29; Matt. xvi, 16). See his similar testimony in John vi, 69 and that of Martha in John xi, 27. Can I look upon Him with His eyes as a flame of fire searching me through and through and say, O Lord, thou art to me the risen living Christ, my personal Saviour. If so, then blessed am I, for our Father has taught me by His spirit (Matt. xvi, 17). The words translated Peter and rock in Matt. xvi, 18, are not quite the same, the first signifying a piece of rock easily moved and the other a solid rock immovable. The rock foundation is the great truth that Jesus is God, and other foundation can no man lay (1 Cor. iii, 11; Acts iv, 12).

The church built on this and on His great atonement as God can never be moved. The company of all true believers in Him constitutes this church, and all else must come to naught. Peter was given the keys of the kingdom, not of the church, and the church is not the kingdom, but the heavenly center of it. From that time and repeatedly He began to tell them that at the hands of the elders, chief priests and scribes He must suffer many things, be rejected and killed and after three days rise again (verses 31; ix, 31; x, 33, 34); but although to us seemingly so plain, His disciples did not receive these sayings, not even Peter and John, and it is written concerning them that up to the time of His actual resurrection from the dead they knew not the Scripture that He must rise from the dead (John xx, 9). They had not received the message of the prophets that the Messiah must suffer, die, be buried and rise again, though we can see it plainly in such passages as Ps. xlii; Isa. liii; Dan. ix, 26; Zech. xii, 10; xlii, 6-7. Peter therefore said that He should not speak of suffering; Be it far from Thee, Lord. This shall not be unto Thee. Pity thyself (Matt. xvi, 22 and margin). Mark our Lord's reply and note that what is not of God is of the devil and is an offense to God.

Believers are either a sweet savor of Christ or salt that has lost its savor. There is no room for self in a disciple of Christ. It must be always a denial of self, taking up the cross daily and following Him; always delivered unto death for Jesus sake, that the life of Jesus may be manifest in us; reckoning ourselves dead unto sin and alive unto God (II Cor. iv, 10, 11; Rom. vi, 11). There is no cross of gold or jet or jewels or flowers seen in Scripture, but only a cruel cross of death.

It means crucified to the world and the world to us, seeing Jesus only. To one life means business to another his profession, to another pleasure, to another this or that great scheme, philanthropic perhaps or just to make money, but one who is right with God says, "To me to live is Christ." He does not ask us to suffer with Him without setting before us the glory of the kingdom to which He has called (I Thess. ii, 12; I Thess. ii, 14; I Pet. v, 10), and to which He refers in verses 38 of our lesson and which we shall see more clearly in next week's study of the transfiguration, and to which the last verse of this lesson (Mark ix, 1) clearly belongs. It was the God of glory who appeared to Abraham (Acts vii, 2), and we can only be sustained in the patient waiting as He and others were. But the church as a whole is as blind to the glory of His kingdom as the disciples were to His death and resurrection, not because it is not plainly revealed but because other thoughts and ways leave no room for His.

ALL HAVE EYES ON INDUSTRIES

Western Canada is Wide Awake to the Importance and Necessity of the Local Factory

In every city in Western Canada, and in practically every town, there is a high salaried commissioner whose special work is the securing of industrial enterprises for his particular municipality. In no part of the world is there greater activity along this line than in Winnipeg, Brandon, Regina, Moose Jaw, Medicine Hat, Lethbridge, Calgary, Edmonton, Saskatoon, Portage la Prairie and other cities. The inducements these centres offer are in most cases very attractive, including free sites, and low assessments. They have selected a list of industries for which they think they have special advantages, and are making a vigorous canvass to secure them. All this goes to show that the thoughtful and enterprising Westerner realizes that the factory must be hand-maiden to the farm. They do not expect to become great and thriving cities on agriculture alone. There must be the hum of industrial activity, which will not only ensure large population but will provide a home market for the produce of the immediate farming district.

This persistent search for industries is not by any means confined to the larger Western centres. The smaller places also fully appreciate the importance of the factory in the permanent development of any centre of population. Consequently all are casting their lines for factories. A few instances may be mentioned as representing the general movement:

Camrose wants a dairy; Yorkton, a pork-packing plant; Weyburn, a fax mill; Wilkie, cereal mill; Bassano, a twine factory; High River, iron mills; Grenfell, a foundry; Wetaskiwin, oatmeal mills; North Battleford, a fence wire factory; Leduc, a packing plant; Daysland, linseed oil mills; Russell, flour and oatmeal mills; Red Deer, a clay products plant; Alx, a brick-making plant; Macleod, flour mill; Estevan, a biscuit factory; Strathmore, breakfast food mills; Souris, creameries; Virden, a flour mill; Braggaville, a pork-packing plant; Ted Deer, pulp and paper mills; Lacombe, tool factory; Taber, brick and clay plants; Milestone, flax mill; Morlach, creameries; Herbert a foundry and Nanton, a pork-packing plant.

The list could be added on indefinitely, and would present a very diversified table of industrial requirements.

WILL DAIRY EXPORTS CEASE IN FOUR YEARS

Northwest Drawing Heavily From East And Likely to Continue For Long

According to The Trade Bulletin, Montreal, Mr. R. M. Ballantyne, managing Director of the firm of Lovell & Christmas, predicts the end of Canada's dairy export business within the next four years. He bases this prediction on the fact that for the past few years Canada's dairy exports have fallen off, and that there is every reason to believe that they will continue to do so in the near future. He states further that while Canada's population has been increasing by leaps and bounds, and its spending capacity has also been increasing, its butter and cheese production has not been increasing anywhere near in proportion. He points out further that the internal trade between the east and west is drawing from our export trade and that this will increase until there is none left for foreign trade.

In the same paper, in answer to Mr. Ballantyne, another man seeks to repudiate him by pointing out that the past is no pattern for the future. He predicts, on the contrary, that the Northwest Provinces will eventually become the great producers of butter and cheese, which will be forced upon them by mixed farming. This was increasing already.

It is just a question then of how much mixed farming will be done in the Northwest within the next few years. The amount done now is comparatively speaking, almost nothing, and there is much virgin soil to be broken and used for grains before mixed farming will make much headway.

INSEPARABLE INTERESTS

Rural and Industrial Classes Must Work Together

The interest of the industrial classes interlocks closely with that of the farmer. The half million hardy factory employees and families of Canada consume as much as sixty million dollars worth of the products of the farm annually. This shows the interest of city and rural population in each other. There is no more mistaken idea that that which regards the interests of the city and country population as being opposed. Nothing could be clearer than that the farmer and his city cousin are interdependent; the thing which is good for one is good for the other, and that which is bad for the one is hurtful to the other. Why should the agriculturist oppose the industrial development of our country. To take the instance of this interdependence that is closest at hand, the growth and progress of Winnipeg means as much to the farmers who are within trading distance of the city as the increase of the rural population within trading distance means to the merchants and tradesmen of Winnipeg—and this is very much indeed. The 150,000 people of Winnipeg must be fed, and a considerable part of the task of feeding them devolves upon the farmers who live near enough to send the products to the Winnipeg market, a market admitted to be one of the best for all sorts of farm products. There is, in fact, an almost constant shortage of such farm products as milk, eggs, poultry fresh vegetables in the Winnipeg market. Milk is easy to produce in the country about Winnipeg and yet seven thousand pounds of milk are brought in each day for the use of Winnipeg people from Minneapolis. Winnipeg is but typical of every other Western city.

Railway Station "Earthquake"

Passengers and porters in the Caledonian West Station, Dundee, were somewhat alarmed to see a stretch of the platform rise and burst, leaving a torn gap nearly twenty feet in length. It was found that the heat of the sun beating on the wide stretch of concrete had caused an expansion. There being no interstices between the squares, a break occurred at the weakest part.

After any Sickness

Nothing so rapidly restores health and vigor as SCOTT'S EMULSION. It is the essence of natural body-nourishment, so medically perfect that nature immediately appropriates and distributes it to every organ, every tissue—feeding, nourishing and restoring them to normal activity.

SCOTT'S EMULSION is not a patent medicine, but is nature's body-nourishment with curative, upbuilding properties and without a drop of drug or alcohol. It contains superior cod liver oil, the hypophosphites of lime and soda with glycerine, and is so delicately emulsified that it enters the system without digestive effort—builds, tones and sustains.

After croup, whooping cough, measles and other child ailments it is nature's ally in restoring health.

After grippe or pneumonia it imparts strength and health, and for colds, coughs, sore, tight chests and throat troubles SCOTT'S EMULSION gives the greatest relief known.

Smart

N. P. Willis, the American writer, was usually the life of the company he happened to be in. His repartee at Mrs. Gales' dinner in Washington is famous. Mrs. Gales wrote on a card to her niece at the other end of the table: Don't flirt so with Nat Willis. She herself was talking vivaciously to a Mr. Campbell.

Willis wrote the niece's reply: Dear aunt, don't attempt my young feelings to rammel, nor strain at a Nat while you swallow a Campbell.

A Point of Honor

No power on earth shall make me do it! The man spoke firmly, but his knees trembled.

She approached close to his side. Her eyes blazed into his. You shall do it, she snarled, how ever much you dread it! D'you hear me?

I refuse utterly. Such action is unworthy of a man of pride and honor. You refuse? Quickly she was at his side again; and though he drew back from her as from a whip-lash, she gripped him like a vice.

Then she took out a small knife—a thin, sharp-pointed piece of steel. She thrust it into his hand.

There! she exclaimed. His obstinacy was driving her to desperation. Her voice broke with passion. William Tompkins, she cried, unless you obey, and peel those potatoes now—at once—you shall go to bed without any dinner!

Suggestive

An Englishman travelling in California was impressed by a specimen of local humour. He was going down a dangerous mountain road in a coach when he saw these ominous words, branded in black letters upon a white board, nailed to a wayside tree: How would you like to have a broken neck and a dirty shirt on? Try the Snowwhite Laundry.

Minard's Liniment Cures Distemper

Overheard during the holiday season at Blackpool:

A little boy said to his father: Eh, feyther, isn't there a lot of foak on th' sands this week?

Father—Aye, but there'll be a lot more on th' rocks next week.

WEAK STOMACH

Need New, Rich Blood to Restore Them to a Healthy Condition

Actually it need of food to nourish the body and yet afraid to eat because of the racking pains that follow. That is the condition of the sufferer from indigestion—a choice between starvation or merciless torture.

The urgent need of all dyspeptics, of everybody whose organs of digestion have become unfit to perform their important duty, is for stronger stomachs that can extract nourishment from food. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills give weak stomachs just the strength they need by enriching the blood supply, thus giving tone and strength to the stomach and its nerves, and enabling it to do the work nature intended it to do. Thousands of cases of indigestion have been cured by Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, of which the following is but one instance. Miss L. A. Brown, Port Albert, Ont., says: "For a number of years I was a terrible sufferer from indigestion and as a result I became completely run down, and suffered from backaches and nervous troubles as well. I had to force myself to eat, but never enjoyed a meal owing to the awful pains that followed eating. Life was becoming a burden, and as medicine after medicine failed to help me I felt I was doomed to go through life a constant sufferer. Finally a married sister strongly urged me to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and I have reason to be thankful that I followed her advice, as they have fully restored my health, and I can now enjoy all kinds of food without the least discomfort and my friends say I am looking better than I have done for years. At all events I know I feel like a new person, so shall always praise Dr. Williams' Pink Pills."

Sold by all medicine dealers or by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Wigwag—I never knew such a fellow as Jones. He is always looking for trouble.

Henpecke—Then why doesn't he get married?

For Sprains and Bruises.—There is nothing better for sprains and contusions than Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil. It will reduce the swelling that follows a sprain, will cool the inflamed flesh and draw the pain as if by magic. It will take the ache out of a bruise and prevent the flesh from discoloring. It seems as if there was magic in it, so speedily does the injury disappear under treatment.

Who was that seedy individual I saw you give half a crown to?

An old literary friend of mine; author of "Ten Thousand Ways of Making Money."

Minard's Liniment Cures Colds, &c.

Ninety-eight out of every thousand women married annually in England are widows, and yet more than 50 per cent. of the women between the ages of 15 and 50 remain unmarried.

In the causes of infant mortality cholera morbus figures frequently, and it may be said that complaints of the bowels are great destroyers of child life. If all mothers would avail themselves of so effective a remedy as Dr. J. D. Kellogg's Dysentery Cordial many a little one could be saved. This Cordial can be given with safety to the smallest child, as there is no injurious substance in it.

Henry Peck—Do you think you can make a good portrait of my wife? Mr. Brushaway—My friend, I can make it so lifelike you'll jump every time you see her.

Gall Stones Cured After 12 Years

A Winnipeg lady has been cured of gall-stones after suffering from that painful complaint for twelve years. She had taken many treatments and many remedies but each and all proved failures, until she took SANOL, the already well-known remedy for Gall-stones, Kidney-stones, Gravel, Kidney trouble, Lumbago and other diseases caused by uric acid in the system. It was a great victory for SANOL. So grateful was this lady that she sent a great number of her friends to us to be treated and in every one of these cases the results have been most satisfactory.

We are willing and anxious to supply the name of this well-known lady. We have also records of cures in every town and locality in Canada and we would be able to refer you to some of your neighbors for an opinion on SANOL.

This remedy is manufactured only by the SANOL MANUFACTURING COMPANY OF CANADA, LTD., 977 Main street, Winnipeg. For sale by most leading druggists or direct from the makers at $1.50 per bottle.

Edna Climbed Up to the Table.

Daddy's Bedtime

Why Edna Was Proud of Her Story—Cut Hand

JACK and Evelyn had been particularly good that day and daddy said he felt sure it would not harm them to hear about the prank of Edna, a little girl who is a trifle mischievous, but who always means very well. "Edna and her little sisters, Florie and Mimi, live in a nice country place. All day they play outdoors in the big garden.

"One morning not long ago Edna felt very hungry indeed. She had been racing about with her puppy and her kitten, and she asked her mother to give her a very large piece of bread and butter with jelly on it. The little girl went into the kitchen and watched as the bread was brought out of the pantry and spread with nice yellow butter.

"Oh, my, how nice it looked! When her mamma took down a glass of nice pink jelly Edna was so pleased that she clapped her little hands with glee.

"When she was given the piece of bread and jelly Edna went out into the garden and sat down in her little chair beside the rose bush.

"As soon as they saw she had something good to eat Puppie and Kitten came running over to her. Puppie could beg so cunningly and Kitten could meow so coaxingly that Edna fed, now one, now the other, a bit of bread and jelly.

"Soon it was all gone, and still Edna was hungry.

"Want more bread and jelly," Edna said, but her mother was talking to a lady at the gate, and the little girl knew that she must wait until the chat was over.

"The little girl, followed by her pets, strolled back to the kitchen door.

"She could see the bread and the glass of jelly on the kitchen table.

"There was the big bread knife right beside the bread.

"Edna opened the screen door and went into the kitchen.

"Get bread mine ownself," she said, and picked up the knife. She climbed upon a chair to reach the bread, and then something happened. The chair tipped over so that the knife cut Edna's hand. Dear, how she screamed! Puppie barked in alarm and Kitten ran to hide in a dark corner as Edna's mamma came running in to see what was the matter.

"She soon tied up the wounded hand, which hurt so much that Edna did not mind the scolding which her mother gave her for taking down the knife.

"In a day or so the cut had healed, but Edna thinks the muslin bandages look nice, and is so proud of them that she won't have them taken off.

"Florie, Edna's older sister, says they might just as well stay on, and then they will be handy when Edna gets hurt again, as she does so often."

A Coming Profession

So far as our knowledge goes, the city of Sumpter, S. C., is justified in claiming that it has introduced a new and coming profession. Through the secretary of its chamber of commerce, that enterprising community of 10,000 people has announced that applications will be received for the office of city manager of Sumter. From the brief summary of the requirements for this office, we gather that the applicant should be competent to oversee public work, such as paving, lighting, water supply, etc.; that an engineer would be preferred; that he must state what has been his previous experience in municipal work; that he will have complete administrative control of the city, subject to the approval of a board of three elected commissioners; that his work will be purely that of an expert; and that he will be entirely free from political control; finally, although local conditions and tradition will be taken into consideration, local citizenship will not be necessary.

The announcement concludes by designating this as "a splendid chance
